

20% OFF THE JOBT TRAINING

THE RULES

The 20% off the job training rule is set out in the ESFA contract signed by both employers and training providers

It is the responsibility of the training provider and employer to ensure every apprentice is given 20% of their paid hours as time to learn and demonstrate new learning.

CALCULATING 20%

Based on a 37.5-hour week and 3-year apprenticeship

$$37.5 \text{ hours} \times 46 \text{ weeks} \times 3 = 5175$$

hours over the apprenticeship

$$5175 \times 0.2 = \underline{1035 \text{ OTJ hours to log}}$$

WHAT COUNTS

- ✓ Attending professional qualification courses at First Intuition
- ✓ Attending specialist skills development days at First Intuition
- ✓ Online learning via our E-Portfolio system
- ✓ Time spent writing up assignments and assessments
- ✓ Time spent studying for examinations if they are relevant to the standards
- ✓ Progress reviews and exams
- ✓ Learning a new skill in the workplace if it is relevant to the apprenticeship
- ✓ Shadowing another member of staff
- ✓ Observing
- ✓ Secondments
- ✓ Being mentored
- ✓ Mandatory work-based learning if it is relevant to the standards
- ✓ Industry visits
- ✓ Attendance at apprenticeship competitions

WHAT DOESN'T

- X Time spent on a company / apprenticeship induction unless specific learning is covered
- X Time spent on English and Maths (Functional Skills)
- X Training to acquire knowledge and skills that are not required in the standard
- X Training that takes place outside the apprentice's paid working hours
- X End point assessment

UNLOCKING MYTHS

You do not need to give a day off per week. OTJ can be front-loaded in the apprenticeship or left to the end

OTJ is not all about time away from the office. All learning completed in the workplace and relevant to the standards will count.
